Q14. Other comments on the state of performance improvement in the government?

1	Shelley Metzenbaum and her teams, OPPM and the PIC, are doing a fantastic job with leading a culture change of performance management across the federal government. The Small Agency Council has formed a performance improvement committee, as well, and the small agencies are shadowing their efforts. Progress is evident, and there is more to come.	Aug 14, 2012 11:00 AM
2	I think that the performance improvement effort is long overdue and I am confident that it will improve agencies' performance across the government. We welcome the new approach and look forward to the challenges and rewards it will bring!	Aug 13, 2012 11:10 AM
3	Small agencies are not able to be as sophisticated in measuring but can still participate to the extent their resources allow.	Aug 13, 2012 10:18 AM
